Kids, and parents, love Hotel X Toronto for its year-round amenities – who doesn't love a year-round, 55-foot rooftop indoor /outdoor pool, proximity to some of Toronto's most family-friendly events and attractions and a 3,000sq. ft. Eat, Drink and Be Merry

As the temperatures drop and snow starts falling in Toronto, the best way to stay warm is often with a festive cocktail. Whether with gin, rum, vodka, champagne, or anything in between, the talented mixologists at the three-level rooftop Falcon SkyBar have created a seasonal menu of drinks to keep the holiday spirit alive late into the night. Be it “A Falcon in a Pear Tree,” “The Gingerbread Man” or “Hazel’s Nutcracker,” guests can look out over the Toronto skyline while staying warm inside and out. For guests sitting down with friends or family for a meal, Maxx’s Kitchen, the hotel’s casual all-day restaurant is serving a special menu from Dec. 19-26, complete with some warm-weather favorites. From Nov. 25-Dec. 31 all visitors are urged to snap a perfect vacation picture or a selfie next to the Holiday Gingerbread Christmas Village created by Executive Pastry Chef Bertie Tanaya.
